

New Zealand Dairy Farm Position

Greenwood Pastures Ltd is a dairy farming business milking 1350 cows over two property's in South Canterbury, in the South Island of New Zealand.

We require 3 seasonal staff for paid positions, for the 2025/26 season, late July 25 through to mid May 26. Normally we recruit students from the USA and UK for these roles. In the past 14 years we have employed 10 students from the US and have been very pleased with their work ethic, skill set and all round attitude. In return we have been able to offer each of them an education into grass fed spring calving dairy farming and agribusiness management as well as a job in a fun young team environment.

Some farm skills would be beneficial but most importantly if you are a positive, fit and motivated person looking to further your agricultural career please apply.

If you would like any more information, would like to be put in contact with current or past employees, or would like to apply please email Matt and Vanessa Greenwood at
